Flooberjig

The “Flooberjig” is top of the line technology. It represents Mephistopheles incredible advancements in science and technologies. It has an odorizer so that you can enjoy smell-o-vision while watching your favorite shows! (Not only that but every single one keeps track of every conversation, search, and order that you make. It also has an active tracking device so that our government may keep full control on all of its citizens.

Chicken

This is Actrovius' wildest chicken. He represents not only their love of chicken (fried, baked, stuffed, etc.) He represents a determination for survival, and a strength of will. This chicken has become a pride for the country. He does not just represent Actrovius' any more, he now represents the county and its pride, and survival.

Bear

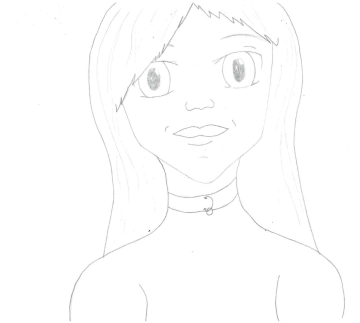

The bear like the chicken has become a part of Mephistopheles. The bear became a big part of our culture due to Catastroph and their almost unhealthy obsession with bears. They were also used as “war horses” during the great war for our freedom and independence.

Collar

Collars are a national item because they have been part of Mephistopheles for centuries. They are gender neutral, however, more masculine people tend to decorate theirs with many spikes.

Tribal Mutants

Mutants are worshipped in Mephistopheles. Also tribal gear. So when they are combined they are ultra worshipped as one of the many gods that our country has.
